OUR STORY

50 Years Journey: Plantation to Packaging

It all started in 1966 when Thal Jute Mills began its journey to becoming the premier manufacturer of Jute products in Pakistan. Today, our bespoke offerings serve thousands of customers and provided livelihoods to skilled and unskilled labour across the country.

Thal Jute imports 25,000 tons of raw Jute annually. At our state of the art factory in Muzaffargarh, thousands of local workers soften and condition this raw Jute before it is spun into Yarn. The Yarn is then used to weave a vast array of quality fabrics. This weave is then further utilized to craft sustainable products for both local and international markets.

Known as the golden fiber because of its colour and value, Jute is one of the cheapest and strongest natural fibers. Traditionally, it is grown without the use of pesticides or fertilizers, and is the most widely used fiber in the textile industry after cotton.

As an end to end manufacturer, Thal Jute engages in contract farming in Muzaffargarh and Hyderabad, Pakistan. This process allows us to grow high quality, commercial grade Jute Crop by providing seed and cultivation know how to farmers. We plan to scale up our Jute farming in the future in order to localize the product cycle and pass on a sustained, competitive advantage to our customers.

Environmentally friendly materials and production processes have made us a preferred partner for Jute packaging at home and abroad and we proudly export to over 25 countries. Our extensive range includes Twill Sacks, Coffee Sacks, Sugar Sacks, Heavy Cees, Light Cees, Hessian Cloth, Hessian Bags (ordinary / natural white), Yarn, Twine and Carrier Bags.
